Why License?

Since 1972, more than 45,000 missing dogs and cats have been returned to their worried owners because they were wearing pet license identification tags.

"Visitors to my home accidentally left the backyard gate open, allowing my precious cocker to get out. I searched for her for an agonizing 16 hours. The next day I received a call from the Police Department. Someone living only three blocks away found her, and kept her safely overnight. The next morning, they called the Department to report her license ID number. She was returned within one hour of that phone call. I was very relieved."

S. Fox, Palo Alto resident

Lost pets with licenses or identification tags often get back to their owners directly without having to be taken to an animal shelter.

Your pet's ID tag identifies you as the owner when your pet becomes lost, and ensures prompt medical treatment if your pet is injured. Pets are held a minimum of seven days at the Animal Services & Placement Center to give owners a chance to recover their animals.

How To License

Cat Registration

Cats are adaptable and can be quite happy - and safe - living indoors. If you choose to allow your cat outdoor privileges, we recommend our five-year identification tag program. For only $10.00 ($5.00 if your cat has been spayed or neutered), you can increase the odds of your lost pet being returned to you. Rabies vaccinations are not required for the registration of cats but are recommended for the health and protection of all pets.

Dog Registration

Over 3,500 dogs are reported lost each year at our office. Licensing is the single most effective way to provide a network of protection for your best friend. To license your dog:

✓ take your dog to your veterinarian to be vaccinated against rabies. Licenses are valid only until the expiration of the rabies vaccination.

✓ ask your doctor to complete and sign the rabies information on the application form, or attach a copy of your dog's rabies certificate, which will be returned to you.

✓ for a 50% discount on the licensing fee, provide a certificate of spay or neuter with your initial application.

Licensing is Easy

Let Us Help

Even though it's the law for all dogs over four months of age to be vaccinated against rabies, and licensed, some owners either don't know the law, or don't understand that vaccination and licensing is an important part of responsible pet ownership. You understand. You are a responsible, caring pet owner. We want to help. We've provided a licensing application form on the right-hand panel. And we've made it easy. So, please, complete it today. For your pet. For your peace of mind.
